F.S.C. Embodies Tradition

From its rich history of academic excellence to its famous Frank Lloyd Wright architecture, Florida Southern College is an institution that encompasses many traditions. Some have grown from its 19th century Methodist origins and others are just now gaining momentum. Each year, with the arrival of new and returning students, there is a joining of ideas, friendships and philosophies that combine to create new traditions as well as uphold established ones. Let us remember the lessons, laughter, and fun found in these traditions.

I won't be in class today. I'm, uh, not feeling very well.

Studying - a professors dream.

And finally for the good part...dessert!

Moments In Time

Look into my eyes and I will tell you your future.

You mean this isn't the way to Ordway?

Was that your sandwich? Hey, hectic times deserve desperate measures.

So, if we look real cute and smile real pretty we'll get our pictures in the yearbook?

I'll take both of them.

"What are you looking at?"

Sandra studies vigorously for her French exam. Students who decide to go for a B.A. degree must take a foreign language.

Recreational Crafts are my life! I could get a degree in this.

Here's looking at you, kid.

This beats the desert any day!!

Swing batter, swing. Intramurals took a new and organized look in 1990 - 1991.

A New Year Begins A New Tradition

Students of various cultures flocked onto Florida Southern's esteemed campus, opening the new year with outstretched arms and smiling faces, welcoming friends after the summer vacation. The reuniting experience started the academic year on a positive note. Caring feelings among students and faculty alike prevailed. The tradition of a new year filled with dreams, excitement, and fun was just beginning.

Neon pink is my color by the pool. Florida Southern Students are hip on trends and cool in the pool.

Leg cramps come and leg cramps go. Thank goodness for FSC trainers.

Vote for the Power Pig! Remember to make your voice count.

All work and no play makes Milinda Brown bored. FSC students are known to work a little and play a little - it's a delicate balance.

We have a test on this? Many students are surprised at what the professors will really assign.

Catch the wave and ride it through. Lake Hollingsworth is always the center of attention at Florida Southern.

Can I have some of that? The cafe always looks better on someone else's plate.

Learning The Ropes

As FSC students we faced a great opportunity to learn, not only in class, but in our daily activities. As freshmen, we learned to adjust to a new atmosphere and new friends. As sophomores, we returned anxious to see old friends and familiar places. As juniors, we decided on a major and discovered the value of a high G.P.A. As seniors, we were filled with relief, anticipation, and sadness as graduation neared.

Through all four years, friends and faculty encouraged us to have dreams and reach for high goals.

Wasn't class outside? The Communications desks will be ever famous for those who had to play balancing games with their books.

Sigma Chi's aren't camera shy. FSC Greeks are known for their long lasting friendships.

Red ball in the corner pocket. The Student Center was open for all who wanted to take a study break.

Traditions never change. Remember when you sat outside
J. R. on the steps.

Where were you when I needed you? FSC students always share a bond that helps them rely on each other for support.

How rude!

Laugh A Little

A well-known Proverb says, "A merry heart doeth good like a medicine." So laugh a little.

The Interlachen is a time capsule of wonderful moments, reflecting traditions passed down from generations of students. Memories that transformed lives were captured with the push of a button. Jog your memory and catapult through the shadows of days gone by, leaving room for today's memories. They last a lifetime.

I gotta hold on!! FSC water skiing is the best.

So if you mix the green with a little blue and then add some red...Labs were always an interesting part of the science course.

No, really, I've got it completely under control.

Memories of Days Gone By

"Fall where ye may!" Many Northerners just seem to drop when the warm Florida sunshine is out.

Left, right, left. We may be in college but sometimes Mondays can be the worst.

Things are looking up!! Smiles are always abundant on Friday afternoons in Moc-land.

Best buddies. College is the best of times.

Three's company, but never too many to make a crowd. Everyone always feels welcomed at FSC.

"Where'd the skier go?" FSC seems to center around the activities of Lake Hollingsworth.

Lazy days in the summer mean bronzy skin in the fall.

To ski or not to ski? Sometimes the question is too hard to answer.

Shawn illuminates her tan between sorority activities. Bronzing is the most popular sport at FSC.

Left over right and under, right over left and under... How many times do we have to do this?

Carla keys in vigorously for her Journalism class in the Communications Department. Deadlines are nothing new for Communications majors.

Academic Tradition

Even as early as 1885, when Florida Southern College was founded in Leesburg as a co-educational facility, the college began its tradition as a forerunner in American education. Permanently moved to Lakeland in 1922, Florida Southern has been affiliated with the United Methodist Church since its origins. Great expansions were made in the campus when, in 1938, construction was begun on the first of twelve buildings designed by architect Frank Lloyd Wright.

Described by Mr. Wright as "the first uniquely American campus," FSC has maintained itself as such with its rich traditions in curriculum, cultural activities, and campus life. College President, Robert A. Davis expressed that, "...it becomes increasingly important for colleges and universities to supply the replacement for moral capital as well as the intellectual resources which our nation needs as it moves into its third century."

Departments & Organizations

A Feel For Your Future.

Every student goes through the the process of choosing a major that he or she feels will suit them throughout their career. At Florida Southern College every department tries to help with this decision by having a few organizations that help the students get a feel for their future.

Artists can join Kappa Pi; an honorary fraternity in the Studio Art Department, future Physics majors can join Students for the Exploration and Developement of Space, and Music Education majors can join M. E. N. C.; Music Educators National Conference.

Altogether, FSC has a great variety of traditional and non-traditional organizations that give the students a taste of what, hopefully, will be their major.

Between classes, Dr. Baldwin escapes to her office.

You can have fun while you work!

Art

The Art Department at Florida Southern College provides a number of opportunities for students who want to pursue an interest in art. Courses in art history and studio art are available as electives. There are three concentrations for the Art major: Studio, Art Communications, and Art Education.

Monthly exhibits by significant artists are featured in the Melvin Art Gallery and one or more field trips to museums or art exhibits are scheduled each semester.

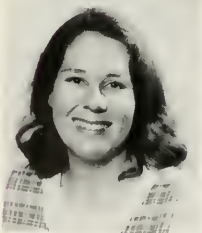

Just a few more strokes for that perfect shadow effect and I'll almost be done. Art classes are offered for the serious and the amateur artist alike.

The Students for the Exploration and Development of Space planned trips to the cape to watch a few launches while the other organizations worked on improving their own knowledge of their major.

Communication

The Communication Department at Florida Southern is a very active and energetic department. With three emphases from which to choose, Public Relations, Journalism and Advertising, students enjoy a wide variety of career choices. A broad base, in the liberal arts tradition, is the focus of the department.

Many students from other departments take courses in the Communication Department as electives or as supportive requirements and find that they enjoy the hands on approach of the department. Some of the more popular courses include Basic Photography, Public Relations, Interpersonal Communications and Advertising .

English

As many students soon find out, the English Department at Florida Southern College is known for its high academic standards.

The grading system within the department is very stringent, but with help from Pens Central and a lot of extra time from the student, the requirements can seem less intimidating.

The grammar techniques learned in the English Department, along with the development of effective writing skills, are combined with the study of classic literature and authors of England and America.

"Yes, Mom, about the English grade that is going to be on the mid-term report....." Students find that the transition from the way they want to write and the way they are supposed to write can sometimes be a little trying.

Mrs. Paula R. Buck

Dr. Ann M. Fadley

Dr. Keith L. Huneycutt

"Alright, if I can just remember the key elements in this short story I can ace that quiz today." Students never cram for tests here, they just wait till the very last minute, while they are eating, to study.

Dr. Robert L. Zimmerman

The best way to read is to be comfortable. Students have a hard time trying to find time to read for enjoyment with the hectic pace of campus life.

Students sometimes find that studying in the dorm is just too chaotic. So they find a quiet spot somewhere in the Roux library and hide so they can absorb all of the material.

Mrs. Barbara Elliott

Miss Mary M. Flekke

Library

The Roux library at Florida Southern is a place where students meet for group projects as well as individual study time away from the dorm.

As with many libraries the FSC library offers an array of resources to pull information from. Students are often sent there by teachers to look up a word in the Oxford English dictionary, or to analyze an article in a recent magazine.

The staff in the library is most helpful and always comes to the aid of students in need of 'change' for the Xerox machine.

Foreign Language

The Department of Modern Languages' program encompasses the language, literature, and civilization of France, Germany, and Spain. Classroom instruction is supplemented by the activities of the various language clubs and Sigma Delta Pi (Spanish National Honorary Society.) Typical club activities are making ethnic food, viewing foreign language movies, having discussion sessions, and taking trips to nearby points of cultural interest appropriate to each language.

Mathematics

The Mathematics Department at Florida Southern College is in the business of preparing students for the future in the areas of Education, Business, and Computer Science. This department also acts as a service department by preparing students for careers in Business and Research. Recently, it has also become the responsibility of the math department to prepare students for the CLAST examination. This department sponsors an honorary society called Kappa Mu Epsilon, a nationwide group representing excellence in mathematics.

Although the Nursing Department is small, these students are full of enthusiasum.

Nursing

The Nursing program at Florida Southern College is alive and well. Structured within the Evening degree program, this department offers the professional registered nurse the ability to build on their Associate degree education by earning a Bachelors degree in Nursing. In existence since 1978, over four hundred nurses have graduated from the Lakeland and Orlando campus programs.

Food nutrition is stressed in the Nursing department as one of the courses, but every once in awhile a little junk food won't hurt.

Mrs. Clara Clayton

Mrs. Rosemarie Lamm

Carolyn is visiting this year from abroad. Florida Southern was a new and exciting place for more then just the freshmen.

Oh my goodness they took our picture!! The photo class students were always clicking away to get the best photos for their assignments.

Hey you guys, come test the water. It's great! No matter what happens, as long as you have a friend with you, the experience is a lot better.

Brotherhood is always something you hold onto throughout your future, wherever you end up. Florida Southern is known for its Greek traditions.

For the Biology Department's Health Fair, the cafeteria held a picnic out by Ordway. The Health Fair proved to be a success by getting the students involved in their own health.

Enjoying a meal outside with friends is the best way to spend an afternoon. Friendship at Florida Southern is not only a tradition but a common and enjoyed experience at FSC.

Pour, Pour, Pour it out quickly down the sewer, you know better then to have it here, so now we throw it away. Florida Southern is not only a dry campus, but in 1991 it also became a smoke - free campus.

For this assignment I just want you to draw what you see when you look at the Annie Pfeiffer Chapel. Art classes are always a great way to express yourself.

Students are required to take a few physical education courses while they are at F.S.C.

Physical Education

The Physical Education Department includes majors in Recreation, Sports Management, and Secondary Teaching Certification - grades six through twelve. The Department attempts to challenge students to improve themselves socially, emotionally, mentally, and physically. This challenge is met by requiring involvement in Intramurals as officials, by mentoring in the public schools each semester, and by participating in and supporting the athletic programs.

R. O. T. C.

Army R.O.T.C. (Reserve Officers Training Corps) enhances a student's education by providing unique leadership and management training, along with practical experience. It helps a student develop many of the qualities basic to success in the army, or in a civilian career. Classes are open to all FSC students.

Common ties help hold the group together. This year everyone waited in breathless anticipation because of the Gulf Crisis.

R.O.T.C. brings people together by making them work to solve a common task. Friendships in the Reserved Officers Training Corps is something no one can forget.

House Mothers

The House Moms at Florida Southern College are an important element of campus life to the students. It helps to have a 'mom' around to watch you play Intramurals or to be there when you need some encouragement.

This year, the dorm moms helped the students on campus and also helped the U.S. men and women in the Middle East by sending care packages of home baked goodies and games.

FSC is proud of their dorm moms. We couldn't do it without you.

Housekeeping & Grounds

Thanks to the very organized group of individuals who make up the Building and Grounds department and the Housekeeping staff, Florida Southern's campus always looks clean and well cared for.

Every morning the Housekeeping staff goes through the dorms cleaning up. While outside, the buzz of lawn mowers, air blowers and sprinklers guide you through the early morning hours to class.

Deep appreciation goes to the departments that help to maintain the beauty that Frank Lloyd Wright imagined for his Child of the Sun.

Branscomb Auditorium is one of the main symbols of the Florida Southern campus. Thanks to the many workers here at the college, the inside and the outside of Branscomb always look precise and very respectable.

Even though you hate the way you look in that photo, you have to show me your I. D. The staff in the Cafeteria always made sure you were able to get a meal during the day.

Everyone enjoys the food that most resembles mom's home cookin'. The cafe is a place where friends come together to eat, talk, and smile.

The Cafeteria Staff 1990 - 1991

Cafeteria & College Terrace

The cafeteria at Florida Southern is a well known part of the campus. Students can look forward to the wonderful steak and shrimp dinner on Saturday, as well as the other tasty delights served throughout the week. A favorite for many students is Ice Cream Night on Tuesday and Thursday nights.

The College Terrace is the place where students can still any craving after the 'cafe' hours. From great greasy hamburgers and french fries to a bagel and cream cheese, the C. T. has it all for those late night hunger cravings that just can't be assuaged by a pizza.

The Cafeteria helped sponsor the outdoor picnic during the Health Fair. The 'cafe' offered many different alternatives to the regular meal plan.

Greeks

Greek life is very popular on the Florida Southern College campus. Members of six sororities and seven fraternities comprised the 1990-91 FSC Greek system. The Greeks participate in Intramurals, campus activities, and their philanthropies. Through the Greek organizations, members make many friends who will remain "brothers" and "sisters" for life. The Greek system offers a common bond to students, including close-knit relationships and fun. So...GO GREEKS!

Some of the ADPi's look a little tired. All their hard work paid off in the end when they won the Intramural Football Championship.

Sorority friends are happy to be together. Hey! Isn't that Bub in the hat?!

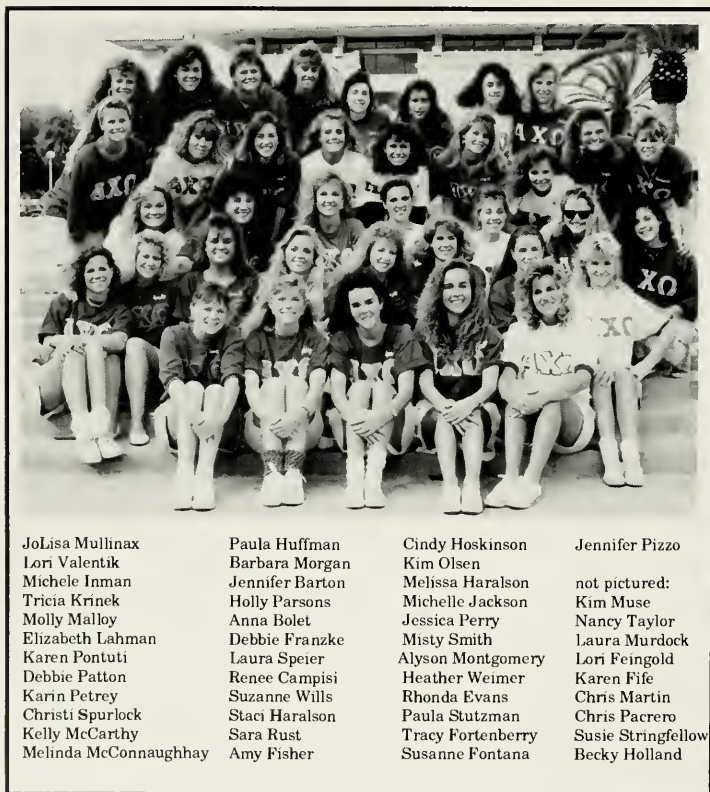

Greeks enjoy participating in Intramurals. Tucky Davis prepares a pass while playing football.

Every year Sigma Chi involves the sororities on campus in Derby Days, its biggest annual fund-raiser. Proceeds go to the Wheelhouse and the Cleo Wallace Center. Sigma Chi is more than just a fraternity. It is an opportunity and a way of life.

Sports

The winning athletic tradition here at Florida Southern has been carried on year after year. Many students come from near and far to experience the feeling of participating in and supporting our athletic teams. They work hard and play hard.

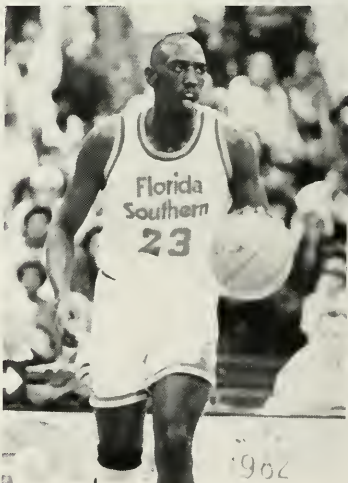

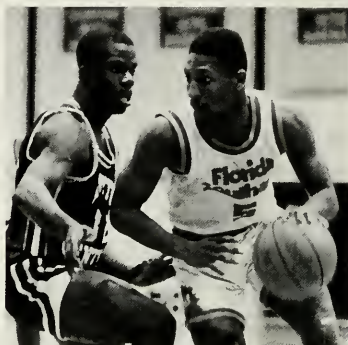

Moc Basketball took on a new look this season with a new leader at the reins. Coach Gordon Gibbons came onto the scene early in the 1990 - '91 school year with hopes and aspirations of showing the state that once again the Florida Southern Moc Basketball team was a force to be reckoned with.

"If the Lord is willing, and the creek does not rise, we should finish in the top elite of the country," said Coach Chuck Anderson in January.

Student Life

The Perfect Combination

Florida Southern College is surrounded by tradition, and Student Life is no exception.

A student's life does not begin or end at school. It includes all of the time the student spends on himself or with his friends. No matter the activity, the goal of every student is to have fun, and there is no better time than during your college years.

During the weekend, the surrounding areas become a Moc's playground. Whether it be going to the beach or dancing the night away, students give new meaning to the word busy. "My weekends are always busy. Traditionally, I go out with the girls to have fun and party. But, dates are thrown in there somewhere," said Junior Amy Day.

Time management is not a problem.

Greek Week, the Coronation Ball, baseball games, Kau's, and Friday nights at XYZ are other Moc traditions. Both Independents and Greeks alike spend time at these various functions. They come together at these events, making the perfect combination of Student Life.

The Student Government Association (SGA) coordinates the various SGA subsidiaries of student government to allow for a cooperative working relationship among the college administration, the faculty, and the student body. SGA attempts to bring valid student suggestions to the attention of the college administration. This year, SGA, in association with the college, worked to have the Student Center open for late night study sessions.

Because of SGA, the Student Center is now open till 1:00 a.m.

JA's & RA's

Junior and Resident Advisors are often the most important people in the lives of new Florida Southern College students. JA's and RA's help first time FSC students familiarize themselves with the alien environment of college life.

Adjusting to a new set of norms, getting involved in campus activities, and taking on more responsibilities are just a few of the things JA's and RA's do to help their "charges." As JA Shannon Daugherty pointed out, "We're here for the freshmen, [to be] a mom, a friend, and a sister. But mostly, we're here to be their friend."

Florida Southern College's Panhellenic is an organization for all Greek women. The Panhellenic Council serves as the governing and coordinating body for all six of FSC's national sororities. Panhellenic works to promote unity and cooperation within the Greek system; it organizes various all-sorority programs and is designed to help nurture the educational and personal development of all sorority women.

Greek Week, an annual tradition at Florida Southern College, takes place every Fall. During this week, each sorority is paired up with a fraternity in order to make one team. Each team then competes in a week of special events. The events include: a t-shirt swapping day, a sheet contest, a canned food drive, a scavenger hunt, a "Gotcha" game, the "olympic" games, the Miss Greek Week contest, and an Awards Dance.

INTRAMURALS

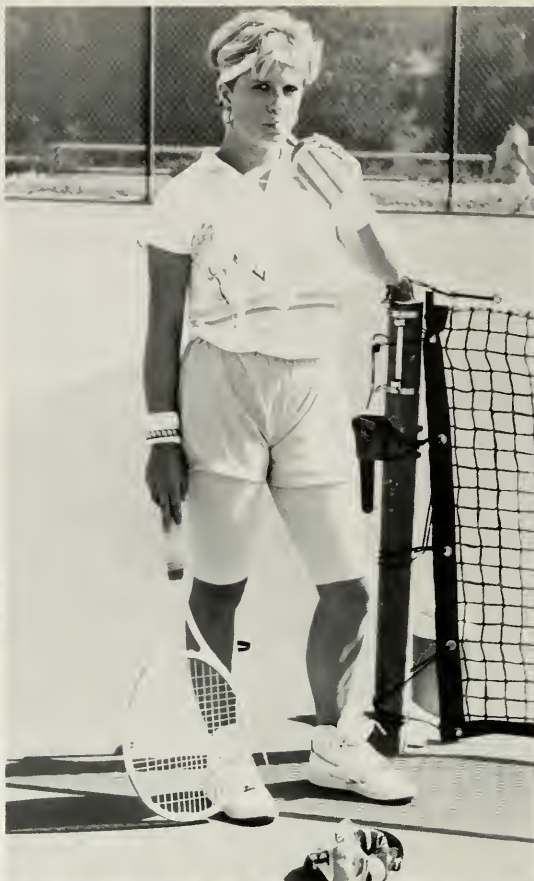

The Intramural Sports program has proven to be very successful this year. Larry A. Powell, Director of Intramurals, took center court in an attempt to promote the program.

Why play intramurals you ask? "...to keep physically fit, develop leadership, team play, sportsmanship and have fun," stated Mr. Powell.

Powell's time and effort paid off. Over seventy-five percent of the student body participated on a team.

The May Option Program is an elective, short term designed to enrich a student's educational experiences by combining study and travel abroad. Since 1979, an annual May Option program has been conducted in England at the grand Harlaxton Manor. This year Students visited England, Scotland, Belgium, and France interspersed with individual student trips to Germany, Ireland, Greece, Spain, and Switzerland. Students take two-three hour courses of innovative and intensive study while forming lasting friendships and experiencing the wonder and cultural history of Europe.

Tradition at FSC

Traditions at Florida Southern are numerous and they become an integral part of our lives as we concentrate on learning, meeting new people, exploring Lakeland, and gaining insight about being on our own. From Ice cream Socials to Intramurals, we garner new experiences that have become traditions for every student attending Florida Southern. As students graduate or move on to whatever life choice awaits them, let us hope that Florida Southern and its traditions in religion, friendship, education, brotherhood and sisterhood will always remain a part of each person who has walked across Frank Lloyd Wright's vision of "The Child of the Sun."

These FSC students are carrying on the traditions of their sorority, Alpha Omicron Pi. They are also making a few traditions of their own to pass on to future AOPi generations.

Nothing compares to making new friends. This is one tradition that lasts a lifetime.

A Kappa Alpha member asks the crowd, "What traditions do ya'll have?"

Life, love, and liberty remain important parts of the lives of FSC students. The chapel has served as a place of answers for many decades on the campus.

"We did it!" These fraternity and sorority members cheer, as they pass on the tradition of winning in sports.

"This is a private conversation," one student says, as she and her friend relax after a hard day of classes.

It looks like another beautiful day for a picnic. Whether it's a trip to the beach or a walk around Lake Hollingsworth, FSC students love the water.

Florida Southern College is proud RELIGIOUS LIFE to provide various religiously affiliated organizations to help contribute to the spiritual awareness of its students. Groups, such as All Campus Fellowship, Young Life, Wesley Fellowship, and the Baptist Campus Ministry, afford students the opportunity to join together in Christian fellowship. These organizations, as well as the Chapel Choir, chapel services, and Roman Catholic services, allow FSC students to enjoy a full range of religiously centered experiences.

This year, they performed several campus service projects, such as: assisting with the Recycling Program, ushering for the Festival of Fine Arts, and helping with Chapel services. STUDENT AMBASSADORS

The Student Ambassadors were a new organization on campus this year. Their main purpose was to give guided tours of the campus to prospective students. They were a group of selected students chosen by the admissions and faculty to be a voice for the FSC community. Based on an idea of Bill Stevens, Director of Admissions, Jill Finnerty and Rob Mallon founded the Student Ambassadors.

Another service provided by the Ambassadors included welcoming guest speakers and other important visitors to the campus. Since this was their first year on campus, all of the students held a position on the council.

Senior Class

A SONG OF SUCCESS

Years ago we walked onto the Florida Southern College campus, stepping into a foreign land. We began to create our futures, with high hopes and unlimited visions. No one had to point out the way we would change.

Through all of the good times and the trials, Florida Southern was there, beckoning us to follow the path of education. We learned to live and love and we learned that true success comes from serving others with our time and our friendship. Precious memories remain.

A little gold, a little purple, and how 'bout some fuschia here. Dorm sweet dorm, it's all yours - including the decorating.

Whatever the future holds, we will press on to reach our goals. We'll continue to learn and to set examples for future generations of Florida Southern College students. Now, as we embark on a voyage into our futures, we will sing a new song... a song of success.

No, really this helps me study! A tan body is an important part of the FSC study guide.

Athletes have one of the busiest schedules on campus and eating on the run became second nature.

Where do we go from here?

Our lives have been enriched by our education at Florida Southern. We've perfected skills and accomplished things beyond our dreams. But what do we do with our talents and where do we go from here?

God has instilled a wealth of ideas and talent in each one of us. Talent is His gift to us. What we do with that talent is our gift to Him. Whether it's teaching or preaching, we must share our talents with the world. And when trials cross your path, do as the oyster does: take the grain of sand, the trial, and weave love around it until it becomes a beautiful pearl. The result in our lives is character.

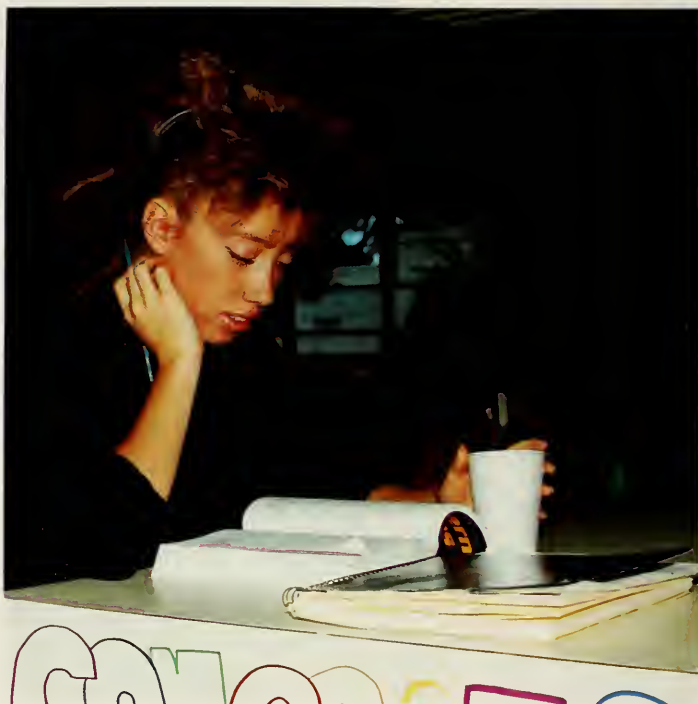

Where do we go from here? Down the narrow barely trodden path of Life. We must dare to travel where few people have gone before. As a pilgrim in a foreign land, seeking the true Home we've been destined for, sharing our talents and love along the way. And it all started at Florida Southern College!

No!! I swear, this is my battery, says David Lee. Having a car on campus is sometimes helpful until you have to find a place to park.

Greeks support Greeks and FSC. As a senior, brotherhood and sisterhood take on even more meaning.

Photographic memories come in handy in college. It always seemed that no matter how hard you studied, there was always a zinger on the test.

Wherever there is sun, there will be an FSC student. Of course, wherever there is an FSC student, there is fun.

My eight o'clock class makes me hungry!! Early risers had to come up with alternative ways of stopping the early morning growls.

It's hot, it's pink, it's us! Clothes are not the only fashion statements at FSC.

Come rain, shine, or broken bones the party must go on. Greek parties always make for an interesting weekend.

Junior Class

A time for Reflection

"Things become more serious your junior year," commented Christi Thayer. "You have to really start thinking about your courses, getting good grades, and looking to the future."

As juniors, we have finally reached that higher plane. We now know the "ins" and "outs" of college life. We have surpassed more challenges than we ever thought possible. We now realize that we must work hard to achieve success.

Carla Mobley takes a break between classes. Most FSC students learn a lot about themselves and the world around them while going to school.

We have grown so much during our years at college. We have laughed; we have cried; we have made many mistakes; and, most important, we have learned. We are on the verge of seeing our dreams become realities. No one knows what the future may hold, but we know that we will be prepared. Nothing can stop the class of 1992.

The Four Musketeers say "cheese." College friendships seem to last forever.

Denise Lorange demonstrates the "Vogue" way to walk through a door.

We're stepping up in style

It seems like just yesterday when we were overwhelmed with the future. Years of studying and tests stared us in the face. Yet, here we are, looking face to face with our senior year. That's why the memories of our junior year are so important. Life is moving on... one year to go until a new lifestyle sets in. It's been great so far and it can only get better!

With a positive outlook on life and past experience in our pocket, we've got it made. We are the next generation. We're setting the pace for the future. We've got what it takes and we'll give it our best. There's no comparison. So, look out... we're stepping up in style.

Sophomore Class

It's Our Turn

As our third and fourth semesters come about, we learn the ropes of campus life at FSC.

1. It's not necessary to dress up for classes yet.

2. No, Branscomb is not the building that looks like a World War II army barrack.

3. 688-0139 is the number to Lakeland Pizza Co. Home of the Monday night special.

Florida Southern College is a school of traditions that run deep. The Greek organizations, the moving out of Allen Spivey, Joseph Reynolds, and Hollis, and the lake.

Catch me, I'm falling.

Watching the sun fall behind the school and cheering on the varsity athletics.

Our sophomore year is the time to get involved. Play some intramurals, sing in chorale, be anything you want to be. It's our turn to share the feeling of Florida Southern.

This is the life.

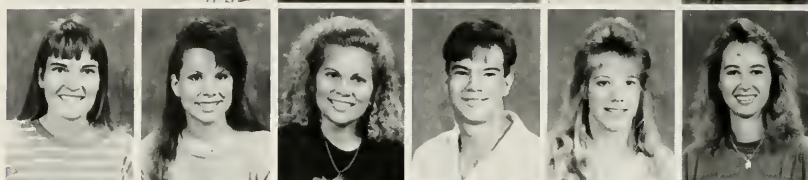

Do we have to stand here
all day?

Dorm Sweet Dorm

In your freshmen year, your dorm looks like a small, cold, dingy room cluttered with school books and dirty clothes. By your sophomore year you begin seeing your dorm and your school as your home away from home. The sun shines into your room where your favorite posters are plastered on the walls. Pictures of your friends are taped to your desk and music blares from your radio while you talk on the phone or munch on some junk food. You no longer count the days until Christmas break, instead you look forward to the weekend ahead with your great new friends.

"You mean the fire drill is tomorrow?!" Dorm life always has its ups and downs, but the worst interruption has to be the fire drill during The Simpsons on Thursday night.

TIME FOR A STUDY BREAK!

“Want To Walk The Lake?”

Daily activities vary with every Florida Southern student. Some check their mail at lunch, others after dinner. Many plan class around their favorite soap opera and others around prior commitments with work study or athletic practices. One thing's for sure, every one here at F.S.C. is active.

Most of these activities are centered around Lake Hollingsworth. Waterskiing, laying out, sailing, walking, bicycling or even the daring running the lake make for an enjoyable day at the Florida Southern campus in Lakeland, Florida, U.S.A.

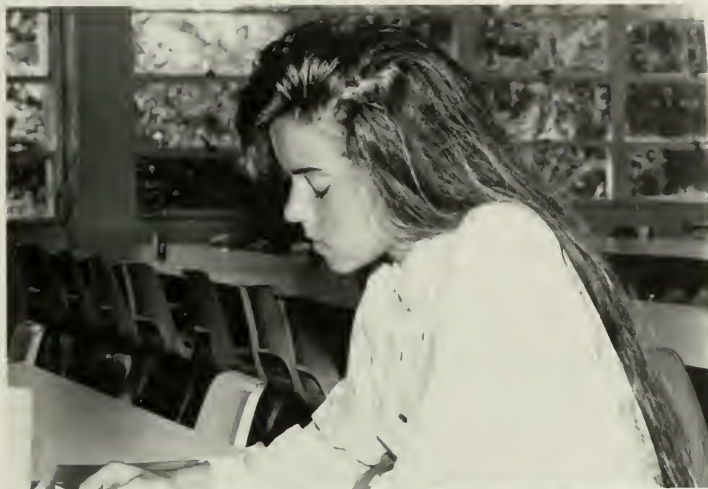

Yum, cafeteria food.

The only way to study.

Sharing A Way Of Life

Sharing new experiences, dreams, goals, and fears is a part of college that makes life in general, more bearable. Many of us share ourselves by forming special bonds through sisterhood or brotherhood in Greek organizations. Such bonds enable us to grow, to change, and to learn. Getting through the rough times, as well as enjoying the good times, with a chosen family is what greek life is all about.

Emily and Nancy prep themselves before the Toga Party at the Lambda Chi house. Throughout the year the sororities and fraternities all participated in parties.

Freshmen Class

A Time For Change

Changes in school, and changes in life-style. The freshman year marks a time of transition from a sheltered high school life to a place in the real world. For many freshmen, going away to school was a totally new experience. They found themselves on the bottom level once again. Used to being "the big man on campus" at their senior high school, they were now in a new situation. They now had to rely on their "older" friends to show them around the town.

One problem that some freshmen were faced with was finding their way around campus. Luckily they had Orientation Week, which pus. Luckily they had Orientation Week, beginning on August 31, which helped them adjust to their new environment. "The people in orientation made me feel real welcome. The different activities helped me get familiar with the campus. My J.A. helped me a lot too, by pointing out where my classes were after registration," said Julie Kent.

Finding Your Way

Orientation Week is an eventful tradition at Florida Southern College for all of the incoming freshmen and transfers. O-Week '90 was filled with activities ranging from a tacky tourist dance to a scavenger hunt. While participating in these events, individuals were able to earn points for their team, meet their peers, and learn their way around the campus. "I have met some friends that I will have for the rest of my life. O-Week was worth coming early for," stated Lori Mencarelli.

Picnics, movies, a trip to the beach, and a student variety show were just a couple of the activities that kept students busy during O-Week. As another freshman said, "Orientation Week was a fantastic way to start off a new year."
